Key Features: A Deep Dive

♥■ Heart Rate & SpO2 Monitoring

The Herz P1's optical biosensor delivers 24/7 heart rate tracking with clinical-level accuracy. Its SpO2 sensor monitors blood oxygen saturation — a critical metric for overall health, especially during exercise or sleep, helping you detect irregularities early.

■ 100+ Multi-Sport Tracking Modes

Whether you prefer morning runs, evening gym sessions, swimming, badminton, or yoga, the Herz P1 automatically recognizes and tracks your activity. Each session records duration, calories burned, distance, and heart rate zones — giving you complete performance data.

■ Advanced Sleep Quality Analysis

Poor sleep is linked to dozens of health conditions. The Herz P1 monitors your sleep cycle, identifying deep sleep, light sleep, and REM phases. Wake up knowing exactly how rested your body is, and get personalized suggestions to improve your sleep hygiene.

■ Stress Level Detection

Using Heart Rate Variability (HRV) analysis, the Herz P1 detects mental and physical stress in real time. When stress levels rise, the band gently alerts you, prompting breathing exercises to help restore calm — a feature especially valuable for professionals with demanding schedules.

■ Seamless Smart Connectivity

Paired via Bluetooth 5.0 with the dedicated app (available for Android & iOS), the Herz P1 syncs all your health data in real time. View trends, set goals, receive insights, and share reports with your doctor — all from your phone.

■ 7-Day Battery Life

The Herz P1 is powered by an optimized chipset that stretches a single charge across 7 full days of use, or up to 30 days in standby mode. The magnetic fast-charging cable restores power in under 2 hours, so you're never without your health guardian.
